

Suggestive Questions On Sunday School Lesson By Rev. Dr. Linscott For the International Newspaper Bible Study Club

(Copyright 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

Lesson for Dec. 4th, 1910.

Peter's denial. Matt. xxvi. 31-35, 62-75.

Golden text—Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. I. Cor. x. 12.

Verse 31—Is it, or not, usual for a company, or a cause, to be scattered when the leader is taken away? Give some examples.

Did the writer in Zec. xiii. 7, from which Jesus quotes, have Jesus in mind at the time he wrote, and does Jesus mean to imply that he did? Give your reasons.

Why is not the flock to be blamed for scattering when the wolf is upon them, and the shepherd has been smitten?

Verses 32-35—Why would it have been better, or worse for Peter, or the cause of God, if in view of subsequent events, he had not made this strong declaration of loyalty to Jesus?

Regardless of what the future may develop, ought we, in the present, with unshaken confidence, to make an eternal covenant of loyalty to God, with full expectation of keeping it? Give your reasons.

In the obtaining of technical, or intellectual knowledge, mistakes are absolutely unavoidable, why therefore does not the same rule obtain in acquiring moral courage, knowledge, or conduct?

Which man is more likely to be true to God, and why, one who is confident from his warm love to God that he will be faithful to him in the future, or the one who is timid and fearful that he will be unfaithful?

Verses 62-75—By what law, moral, spiritual, or psychological, did this truly earnest Peter deny the Christ that a few hours, at most, before he said he would die for?

Was Peter's denial moral cowardice, or policy, a suddenly formed plan of campaign to defeat the enemy?

If Peter's denial was not a real denial, from his heart, what moral blame would you attach to it?

Verse 71—When a life has been told, whether "white" or "black," what are the chances that more lies will be necessary to back it up?

Describe the nature of each of Peter's three lies, and show how they illustrate that those who start at wrong-doing, invariably get "worse and worse."

When a man has to curse and swear to back up his statement, is it, or not, prima facie evidence that he is lying?

Verses 75—What is the value of warning, or good advice, when we know it will be disregarded?

What is the moral difference between the sin of Judas and that of Peter?

What evils, or good results, have followed from Peter's sin? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Is the world and the church better or worse because of Peter's denying Jesus?

Utterly Wretched

Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found. Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

No Slump In Beef Here But Pig Meat Drops Some

Meat prices, which most interest the housekeeper, after all, are not destined to much of a slump on account of "Democratic victory," or any other kind of victory. That is, in El Paso, they are not.

While the Chicago market has taken to the crazy house, the steady and respectable Texas steer has not been affected by the disturbances. Southwestern ranchmen have a sort of market of their own, not so much by cooperation as a refusal to be affected by any conditions not local. So beef and mutton are being sold in El Paso at about the same figure as previously.

But up comes old brother pig with good news. Pork comes largely from the east, and the change in prices there affects this city also. Steaks and leg pieces remain around the 20 cent station, but chops—pork chops, mind you—have tumbled from 22½ cents to 20 cents.

Green stuffs have experienced little change. Some articles have dropped out of the market, and a few have been added to the market basket list. Empress grapes are in at 50 cents the basket, in place of Cornishon grapes at the same price, but a grape's a grape for that. Wax beans have nearly disappeared, and green ones stand at 15 cents a pound.

Of interest to the stock raisers is the condition of the alfalfa market. While prices remain the same—$17 wholesale; $18 retail—the market is very stiff. Lack of water during the fall is almost certain to bring the price up before many weeks. And it is expected that the figure will materially exceed anything last year. The quotations on chicken feed have been added to the list for the accommodation of dealers and fanciers.

Alfalfa Remains at Old Price, But Raisers Is Expected.
